

Dear Prospective Family,
Thank you for considering St. Andrew's Academy as the school of your choice.

Visitors to St. Andrew's remark about observing happy children engaged in purposeful activities. When I first visited St. Andrew's this past spring, I, too, was impressed by enthusiastic students at work within this joyful place of learning.

Students are encouraged to actively question, explore their questions with investigations, and be led by their curiosities to discoveries. Being guided to become ever more inquisitive, students are encouraged to become self-motivated, self-confident responsible independent thinkers.

At the same time, we are regularly reminded that as individuals we live within larger communities. Through class discussions and whole school chapel services, students and faculty regularly consider the needs of others and undertake community service projects.

Individually and collectively we nurture growth in the areas of spirituality, integrity and compassion. Our high standards are not only embedded in our academic curriculum but in our moral and ethical conduct as well.

The best way to familiarize oneself with St. Andrew's is to visit our campus and observe first-hand the joyful engagement that inspires us each day.

We look forward to your visit.

Ed Cavin
Head of School